

Nathan Teegarden

MYT Coach & Presenter

Nathan is a performance coach, entrepreneur and business owner who started his first business mowing lawns as a 9-year-old. This led to other business adventures until he graduated with a Business degree from Colorado State University. He spent the next 16 years in the corporate world with GlaxoSmithKline, Adecco, and Penn Athletic Products and then internationally as a consultant for ISL Worldwide in Switzerland.

He left the corporate world to start his first business with a partner who was also a good friend. It promptly failed due to compromised visions. Learning from his mistakes, he founded Dynimus and True Calling and now 22 years later he is coaching executives, business owners, managers, and employees throughout the country to better understand their hardwiring to improve their performance and career fulfillment.

He and his wife Lucia have three children in college. His passions include time with his family, coaching, reading, research, friends, golf, travel, and outdoor activities.

dynimus.com - yourtruecalling.com - linkedin.com/yourtruecalling

